ANGER MANAGEMENT PROGRAM FOR TEENS

This program is free of charge and designed for teenagers ages 13 up to 18 years old who are having difficulty managing anger, not communicating respectfully, and/or demonstrating low self-esteem

PUTTING YOUR ANGER TO WORK FOR GOOD

Most People believe that anger is a negative emotion from which no good can come. Many people think that anger should not be expressed and that such feelings are wrong. The "What's Good About Anger" Program explores the emotion of anger and how anger, which is part of the human experience, can be put to work for good. Teens will learn:

- The process of anger and its triggers
- Turn your anger into forgiveness
- What is good about anger
- When to take a time-out (break)
- Defusing anger by managing stress
- Plan to change your life by changing your thinking
- Handling anger effectively
- How emotional intelligence impacts anger
- Anger and assertiveness
- Building healthy and successful relationships
- Managing conflict
- Choosing behavior alternatives
- Accepting responsibility for unhealthy anger
- Defusing anger, hostility and dealing with bullying
